The Spring Plant Sale Returns to the Memphis Botanic Garden this April!

Memphis Botanic Garden (MBG) will again host its annual Spring Plant Sale on April 21-23 from 9 am to 5 pm and April 26-29 from 10 am to 2 pm at its Nursery at the Garden. MBG's largest plant sale of the year features a huge assortment of sun and shade annuals, perennials, tropicals, edibles, shrubs, trees, and more. Shoppers can choose from thousands of plants carefully curated for the sale and well-suited to thrive in the Mid-South climate, including many from the Garden's greenhouses.

Our expert horticultural staff and Master Gardener volunteers will be on hand at the sale to answer any questions as well as help customers with suggestions about plantings in their own gardens and offer advice on plant care and maintenance.

Plus two special outside vendors will sell specialty items on April 21-23. Attendees can purchase a new birdhouse or garden sign by Don Warmbrod to entice new friends to their outdoor oasis. Southern Cultured Orchards & Nursery will also be on-site, which specializes in heirloom, native, and exotic fruit trees. Don't miss these extra-special selections while you're here!

Shopping reservation sign-up for MBG Members will be available beginning Monday, April 11, and open to the general public on Friday, April 15. The event is free and open to the public, but shopping entry is only guaranteed with an advanced reservation on April 21-23. Those without reservations may have to wait until capacity allows additional shoppers. There are no reservations needed to shop on April 26-29.

More information is available at membg.org/events/sps-22

All proceeds directly support the Memphis Botanic Garden.
