About ALABAMA

Over 50 years ago, Jeff Cook, Teddy Gentry and Randy Owen left the cotton farms of Fort Payne, Alabama to spend the summer playing music in a Myrtle Beach, South Carolina bar called The Bowery. It took them six long years of tip jars and word-of-mouth to earn the major label deal they'd been dreaming of—then seemingly no time at all to change the face of country music. ALABAMA, country music's first band, was inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame in 2005. The group is known for hit songs including "Mountain Music," "Roll On," "Dixieland Delight" and "If You're Gonna Play In Texas (You Gotta Have A Fiddle In The Band)." From humble beginnings picking cotton in the fields to international stardom, ALABAMA has sold over 80 million albums and charted 43 No. 1 hits, becoming the most successful band in the history of country music. In November 2022, ALABAMA co-founder Jeff Cook passed away following a lengthy battle with Parkinson's disease. With his prior encouragement and wishes, ALABAMA continues touring on a limited basis, keeping the iconic music they created alive for current and future generations of fans.
